

DIXONITES HEAR STIRRING TALKS ON PATRIOTISM

SOLDIERS, CITIZENS AND PASTOR
ASK FOR RECRUITS FOR MILITIA.

IN THE WAR FOR HUMANITY
Chamber of Commerce Called Meeting and Dixon Bands Gave Their Music.

Considering the weather, a good sized crowd attended the patriotic meeting at the Dixon opera house last evening and listened to several inspiring and stirring addresses. Soldiers and citizens and a prominent member of the ministry of the city spoke on the subject of the present crisis and the nation's peril and urged the young men of Dixon to show the true American spirit and fight, if necessary, for Uncle Sam and "Old Glory."

Col. W. B. Brinton presided at the meeting, which was called by the Chamber of Commerce. The Moose band gave a splendid concert on the street before the meeting and the Chamber of Commerce band gave another excellent concert from the stage of the theatre. Both bands donated their services.

The speakers were Captain Charles Frisby, Major Sam Cushing, Attorney John E. Erwin, formerly captain of Co. G, and Rev. E. C. Lumsden, pastor of the Methodist church in this city. All the speakers were warmly received and their patriotic utterances were enthusiastically applauded by the audience, which was manifestly in sympathy with the movement to prepare America for the "war for humanity."

Capt. Frisby's Talk

Captain Frisby, a veteran military man, made a strong appeal for the filling of the ranks of Co. G to full war strength. He told of the historic honor of Co. G, the first company of infantry to land on the island of Porto Rico during the war with Spain, and the only Illinois company to go into actual engagement. Captain Frisby said that all young men who can do so, should enlist.

Cushing's Appeal.

Major Sam Cushing, many years Captain of Co. G, said that all young men should have a try-out in military service for their own good. He said it was up to the young men of Dixon to show their colors and live up to the standards set by the young men of other days "for it was the young men of the country who fought the civil war and the Spanish war." Captain Cushing gave an interesting account of the stirring exploits of American military and naval forces in times gone by, and expressed the hope that if America goes to war now he may be able to go and do his share. He gave great praise to Captain Soper and Lieutenant Preston of Co. G, who were his staff officers when he was in command of the local company. The Major's talk was full of red-blooded patriotism and Americanism.

Of With the Colors.

Captain John E. Erwin's talk was full of good logic and patriotic appeal. The theme he expressed was that this war should result in the freedom of the people of Europe from "the divine right of kings." "Remove the crowns from the heads of a few of those potentates across the sea," said Captain Erwin, "and then when we free the German people from Prussian autocracy, perhaps we can also free Ireland." This sentiment was enthusiastically received.

Captain Erwin spoke in behalf of the women in the Red Cross service in Dixon and all over the land, urging the young men of Dixon not to let the girls outdo them in service to the nation and the flag.

Thirty-six airplanes are ordered for the new school, which will be located on the grounds of the Aero club of Illinois. Machine shops are being built and eight army aviators have been ordered here to act as instructors.

OVERPOWER SANDERS TO GET AUTOMOBILE

LEE CO. BOY AGAIN THROWN INTO LIMELIGHT AT JOLIET PRISON.

WAS IN CHARGE OF GARAGE

Four Trustees Bound and Gagged Him—Were Caught Six Miles Away.

Warren Sanders of Ashton, who was badly stabbed by a convict at the penitentiary at Joliet several weeks ago, and who had but recently recovered from the injuries, was thrown into the limelight at the prison again yesterday when four prisoners made an attempt to escape in Warden Zimmerman's automobile.

The four convicts, all "trusties," entered the garage inside the walls where the warden's auto was kept, overpowered Sanders and George Mears, the convicts in charge, stuffed rags in their mouths as Sanders, tied their hands behind their backs and their feet together and flung them in a corner.

With sheets of steel they made the front of the automobile bulletproof by fastening the sheets behind the windshield. They then started the engine of the car going and kept watch through the garage window for the big double gates in the east prison wall to swing open to admit 400 convicts employed in the distant quarries, on their way to dinner.

Dash Through Gates.

Promptly at noon the gates swung open. The convicts from the quarries began to file through, when the four convicts, with the auto running at top speed, shot into the crowd and through the gate, scattering prisoners right and left.

The fleeing convicts were overtaken at New Lenox, six miles away, where their car had stalled because of carburetor trouble. They were taken back to prison at once.

During the excitement of the attempted jail break Stephen Dojko, a convict sentenced to 25 years from Kankakee for burglary, hanged himself in his cell. He had made a rope out of bedclothes and fastened it to an upper berth. He had pleaded sickness and was found dead several hours later when his cellmate returned in the evening. He had been refused parole by the pardon board last Saturday.

Members of the Elks' lodge are showing a great deal of interest in the smoker to be held at the club at 8 o'clock this evening, the feature of which will be the presence of Representatives Lee O'Neil Brown, Frederick De Young and M. L. Igoe, who came to Dixon in response to an invitation from Representative John P. Devine. The gentlemen will make brief addresses and Dixon men will welcome the opportunity of hearing and meeting the distinguished guests.

GIVES NO REASON.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Apr. 5.—Sec. Lansing today confirmed the report that Ambassador Penfield would return to Washington from Vienna, but gave no reason.

Because letters to them are improperly addressed, many members of Co. G have not received mail from Dixon friends. All mail to the soldiers should bear the militiaman's name and the following: "Co. G, Sixth Inf., I. N. G., R. I. A., Rock Island, Ill."

ONLY TRAINED ARMY WOULD BE OF SERVICE

YEAR OR MORE NEEDED TO PREPARE U. S. FORCES FOR FRANCE.

OPPOSE SENDING REGULARS

Military Experts Say Regulars' Officers Are Needed for Work in the United States.

Washington, Apr. 5.—A U. S. army to be of service in France must be fully equipped and trained.

This is a matter of a year or more. It is idle to talk about sending a small army to France for sentimental reasons. It would not be a drop in the bucket.

Assuming we have a real, thoroughly trained and equipped army and send it to France, of course it would be an invaluable aid to the allies. On any other basis an American army is an impediment, if not a menace. We can send a perfect military machine to Europe if given time to prepare it. Nothing else should be sent.

How They'll Be Used.

An American army of several hundred men, if placed in France, after being acclimated would be worked in to a section of the long battle front, just as new troops from England or France or Russia are worked in—a little at a time, a complete section being ultimately turned over to the American contingent.

Before this could be done it would be necessary for the American field commander to establish his own lines of communication, bases for supplies and assume complete control of every thing military on his own section of the front. All this would take time.

Training First Essential

Therefore, the problem is not in getting men and getting them over to France, but in procuring them, training them, and pushing them along only when ready. There is every indication that public clamor will seek to force the sending of troops to France before they are prepared to go. This will never be done with the consent of military men. We are absolutely opposed to sending a small contingent of the regular army, the only force now prepared to go. To do so would be suicidal, since we have not nearly enough officers as it is, and will need every officer and competent enlisted man that can be spared for the training of new troops.

France and Great Britain want an American army sent to Europe, but they want a trained army and would not have use for any other.

CHICAGOANS KILLED IN BLAST

Gas Explosion in Restaurant at Noon Injured Many Others

(Associated Press)

Chicago, Apr. 5.—Several persons were killed and 50 were injured, according to police estimates, in an explosion believed to have been gas, which destroyed a building at Halsted and Lake streets at noon today. RELIEF STEAMERS ARE SUNK

One Was Torpedoed Without Warning—Second Hit a Mine.

(Associated Press)

New York, Apr. 5.—Belgian relief steamers Trevoir and Polstein have been sunk, the former without warning. The latter is believed to have hit a mine near Rotterdam.

UNIVERSAL TRAINING WINS

Illinois Is First Western State Voting for General Militarism.

Springfield, Ill., April 5.—Illinois is the first western state to endorse universal military training. The house without a dissenting vote concurred in the Curtis joint resolution memorializing congress to inaugurate the system.

Edward Curtis of Grant Park originated the resolution in the senate last week, where it was passed unanimously. There was some talk last week of opposition in the house, but it did not materialize and concurrence was given with a whoop on a viva voce vote.

BROKERS FACE INDICTMENT

Board of Trade Operators Confess Evading War Emergency Tax.

Chicago, April 5.—Confessions of two Board of Trade operators, in an alleged effort to evade the war emergency tax, may lead to the indictment of several operators on the Board of Trade.

It is charged that the tax dodgers destroyed records, which should have been turned over to the government officials.

ANOTHER AMERICAN SHIP IS SUNK

Unarmed Steamer Missouriian Sent Down Without Warning.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Apr. 5.—The unarmed American steamer Missouriian, which left Genoa, Italy, April 4 with 32 Americans among the crew of 53, has been sunk without warning. The crew was saved. The sinking of a British and a Norwegian vessel, each with Americans aboard, is reported by Consul Lathrop at Cardiff. The crews were in the boats many hours before rescued.

ILLINOIS REGIMENT IS MUSTERED IN Chicago Soldiers Enter U. S. Service.

Chicago, April 5.—Nine hundred and eighty-nine officers and men of the First Illinois infantry were mustered into the federal service here. When the regiment was assembled in their armory and asked by federal officers if they were ready, 204 refused to take the oath by which they became members of the regular army. The remainder took the oath in a body.

The sudden order from the war department to muster the First infantry into the federal service is said by military men to be a forerunner of a summons for duty outside the state of Illinois.

BERLIN PAPERS HIT WILSON FOR MESSAGE

ONE PAPER SAYS UNITED STATES WILL BE SMALL FACTOR IN THE FIGHT.

(Associated Press)

Berlin newspapers attack Wilson and repudiate the distinction he drew between the German people and their government. The Germania says: "Wilson wanted war, but as little as Italy and Rumania could turn the scale against us, so little will the United States be able to turn the tide."

The Observatore Romano, the Vatican organ of Rome, says: "The man who last December championed peace is today leading the world to the greatest human butchery ever witnessed in the old world."

Company G. Boys Want Picture Of Salt, Pepper, Sugar And Milk

(Special Correspondence)

Rock Island, Apr. 2.—One week of federal duty completed. Sunday was cold and rainy all day and the boys were compelled to stay in their tents, but we kept dry and our tent stoves were warm friends. Tomorrow we go on duty for a day and a night.

Very little liberty is granted the boys now, especially in leaving the island.

It is cold, crawling out of our tents at 5 o'clock in the morning and standing in the company street during roll call and morning instructions, but we get warm in the setting-up exercises conducted by Frank Salisbury, who is a favorite among the boys and easily wins their respect and obedience.

We had a splendid opportunity today to witness a fire drill by the arsenal fire department. The alarm of fire was turned in to the barracks, and immediately there was a grand rush of men to their appointed places. The auto fire trucks soon appeared and the fire whistle continued to blow until the whole island was notified. In no time three streams of water were playing on the warehouse, the center of the imaginary conflagration. The water power was sufficient to throw the streams completely over the building.

The drill was very interesting and spectacular and shows the promptness and great efficiency of the men, department equipment and the water power.

Hint To Those At Home.

A suggestion from the boys is that some public-spirited citizen might send us the picture of some salt, pepper, sugar, milk and catsup, so we could tuck it up in the company streets where we could look at it as we march to the cook shack for mess. As it is so long since we have had any of those seasonings we have forgotten what they look like.

The evening bids fair for a pleasant day on duty tomorrow.

WAR RESOLUTION WILL PASS HOUSE LATE THIS EVE.

DEBATE ON MEASURE BEGAN AT EARLY HOUR THIS MORNING.

PREDICT HEAVY MAJORITY

Miller Says Zimmerman's Note Offered Mexico Submarine Base.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Apr. 5.—The debate on the war resolution began in the House at 10 o'clock this morning, with Chairman Flood of the committee on Foreign Affairs making the opening statement. The passage of the resolution, which will complete action by congress in declaring that a state of war exists, is expected before night by a heavy majority, comparable with that which attended its passage last night in the senate. The senate was not in session today.

In opening the debate Flood said: "We are compelled by the German government to enter this most colossal war."

Miller Springs Sensation

Democratic Leader Kitchen said he would speak and vote against the resolution.

Representative Miller, republican member of the Foreign Affairs committee, sprung a sensation when he declared an unpublished paragraph of the Zimmerman note had offered to establish a submarine base in a Mexican port to supply Mexico unlimited arms and ammunition and to send German reservists in the United States to Mexico. Miller said he understood three German schooners had landed on the western coast of Mexico and that Villa was surrounded by German officers who are drilling his men. His reliable information, he said, was also to the effect that Carranza and his army are "not much better."

Lansing Makes Denial.

When Sec. Lansing was shown Miller's quotation he said Zimmerman's instructions "contained nothing of the sort."

Washington, April 5.—The senate war resolution passed, 82 to 6.

Senator Gronna, La Follette, Lane, Norris, Stone and Vardaman voted against it.

A three-hour speech by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and a reply by Senator Williams of Mississippi in which he said Senator La Follette's address would "better have become Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg than an American senator," featured a bitter debate in the senate on the resolution.

Senator Norris, one of the "wilful men" who opposed the armed neutrality resolution, was accused of treading on the verge of treason when he declared the United States was about to put the dollar sign on the American flag.

Lodge Defends Resolution.

Senator Lodge defended the war resolution in a speech in which he bitterly arraigned the German government. He urged the seizure of German ships in United States harbors and the prosecution of a vigorous war.

As soon as Senator La Follette concluded his speech, early in the evening, Senator Williams arose to reply.

"The speech of the Wisconsin senator would have better become Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg than an American senator," said Senator Williams.

"In fact, he has gone further than Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg would ever have gone. Bethmann-Hollweg said the use of the submarine could be justified only on the ground of necessity; the senator from Wisconsin puts it on the same footing as Great Britain's interference with our commerce."

Pro German, Anti-American.

MEN OF PRESENT TO PAY FOR WAR

Wilson Plans No Big Debt Saddled on Future.

BIG PROFITS TO BE CURTAILED

Idea Is That of Lloyd-George—Patriotic Offers of Munition Workers Accepted as Matter of Course. Small Profits to Be Guaranteed. Taxes Will Take Cream Off.

New York, April 5.—Wall street is figuring on war profits, not that the street is measuring its patriotism in percentages, but that even the most patriotic bankers naturally expect money as a by-product.

So much is said about war profits that it may be well to give the results of a personal investigation made at Washington about the middle of February by Broadan Wall, one of the best known financial writers in the world. The investigation was prompted by the fact that figures on the cost of copper production had been asked for by a high government official. Positive statements received from the highest possible authorities warranted the publication made from time to time since then to the effect that nobody will make any money out of war material and that if this country enters the war it will purchase not only for itself but for the Allies.

Wall Street Really Patriotic.

Whether justly or unjustly, the administration has a notion that Wall street wants war because of the possible profits. Nobody familiar with sentiment in the Street could make such a statement, for if there is sincere patriotism it is aflame in the financial district now. In all past wars there have been great profits made and very naturally speculators have looked forward to such things now, but the big bankers have taken their stand on principle.

Nevertheless, Washington is proceeding on the theory that Wall street would like to see bonds issued so that there might be commissions and would like to see big profits, and Washington is determined to issue as few bonds as possible, to take material as cheaply as possible and to make the present generation pay the entire cost of the war. This is the program being worked out by Lloyd-George in England. The inside circle of bankers know that Lloyd-George hopes to keep up war taxes after peace is declared until the entire cost of the conflict is wiped out. He does this on the theory that it was the bungling management of governments that precipitated the conflict and that therefore this generation has no right to pass the debt on to posterity.

Present Generation to Pay for War.

President Wilson and his cabinet feel the same way. They believe that if they have the right to take one citizen and shoot his arms and legs off and pay him $15 a month, leaving him a cripple for life, or even taking his life, they have the right to take whatever materials they need and give a very moderate profit for them. They feel very strongly that the Allies have been forced to pay unfair prices for material in America. This country being in the war, it will be to the interest of this country to see that other nations get war material at fair prices.

The official reports of corporations have been obtained and investigated and the fabulous profits are no secret to the government officials.

Takes Offers as Matters of Course.

Important manufacturers who offered to turn their plants over to the government expecting to be applauded for their patriotism have been notified in a matter of fact way that their willingness to co-operate is appreciated but that they would have been compelled to co-operate anyhow. The steel people have held back but they are seeing the light and within a few days the public will learn that they too are willing to co-operate with the government.

Profits of corporations making war material are going to be shot down to a ten per cent level according to the government plan and if that proves too much excess profits will be taxed even after that. Those who cannot be reached directly by being permitted to furnish material will pay their share through increased income taxes.

Bonanza Profits Relics Same as Kings.
Bonanza war profits are a relic of the old regime and are going to disappear along with the kings.

The vice president, Mrs. Bardwell, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Forsyth.

The program was opened by a double number, "In a Rose Jar" (Cadman) and "Once Again" (Hawley), sung most beautifully by Miss Wingert, accompanied on the piano
by Mrs. Frank Rosbrook.

Following the roll call and reading of the minutes, Mrs. Thompson favored the club members with a double song number, "Song of the Seas" (Hawley) and "In the Dark in the Dew" (Coombs), with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Rosbrook.

Mrs. Thompson's numbers gave the audience the pleasure her charming voice always gives.

The paper of the afternoon, "We tern Fiction" was given by Mrs.
Countryman and was much enjoyed. A brief resume of the paper follows:

Fiction is representative of the political, social, and ethical ideas of a people. Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) was one of the earliest important writers of western fiction.
His novel, "Huckleberry Finn", has more value to history than "Uncle Tom's Cabin". "Tom Sawyer" and "Puddin' Head Wilson" are some of his other well known novels.

In 1837, Edward Eggleston was born in Indiana and at the age of seventeen became circuit rider for his church. He later became one of our writers of western fiction.
His novels, "The Circuit Riders" Roxie", and "The End of the World" are convincing studies of the times of the Middle West.

Another writer who gives a very adequate conception of western life is Octave Thanet, as illustrated in
"The Stories of a Western Town".

Edgar Watson Howe's "Story of a Country Town", William Allen White's "Sketches of the West" and Hamlin Garland's "Captain of the Gray Horse Troop", are all stories of the great Northwest.

Owen Wister, a Harvard graduate, and a writer of western fiction, portrays a very unique and fast variety type of the West. Two of his best known books are "Tim Mc-Lean" and "The Virginian".

Gertrude Atherton writes of life in southern California; Bret Harte a vital power in fiction, depicts western life in his "Luck or Roaring Camp". Helen Hunt Jackson, Harold Bell Wright, Jack London, Richard Harding Davis, and Harold Leon Wilson are a few well known writers of modern fiction, whose stories are so full of the romance of the West. Harold Leon Wilson whose story, "Ruggles of Red Gap" is so well known to all, was born in Oregon, Ill., and is very well known by the writer of this paper, Mrs.
Countryman.

Following Mrs. Countryman's most interesting paper a pleasant social hour was enjoyed, with tempting refreshments served by the hosess.

Dixon Chapter, Red Cross
The work of the Red Cross chapter of Dixon, which is really a branch of the Chicago Red Cross, is progressing with enthusiasm, but it is desired that still more should enter this much needed field. The war cloud overhanging demands that more attention be given to this work and there should be few women who are not enrolled as the work advances. Mention of the work was made at last evening's patriotic rally as a field of useful and patriotic activity for women.

The first box of completed supplies, containing three dozen abdominal binders, five dozen muslin slings, seven dozen roll bandages made of crinoline to hold packings in place, five dozen flannel bandages, three dozen knit sponges for wound cleansing, and two dozen gauze drains, will go to Chicago the latter part of this week as evidence that the society has been active in the two weeks of its existence.

Delay in starting the class in Home Care is due to the many things which just at present is congesting the work at Washington, but it is hoped that the application blanks will soon arrive and the work in this class started.

The Chapter and those in charge wish to extend their thanks to the invincibles, to Mr. Brinton, and G.
H. Martin for the substantial aid offered through the checks presented.

The chapter, it should be understood, has to purchase all of its supplies from half of the membership ees and such funds as are donated, and to be a thriving, active organization the membership should be large and Dixon people be generous.

No matter how small the contribution, any sum given will be received gratefully. The officers of the chapter are also grateful for the many offers of quarters for the chapter but decided upon the room at the outhouse, kindly offered by the supervisors, as the most permanent.

The chapter heads are gratified by the contents of a letter, recently received from the director of Red Cross organization, J. J. O'Connor of Chicago, who states that the Dixon chapter has the best backing of any chapter in the state. With a start like that, the chapter should continue to grow and flourish.

With Dixon Friends
Miss Anna Eustace, instructor of languages in Waterman Hall, Sycamore, is spending a two weeks' vacation with Dixon relatives and friends.

Demonstrating in Penn.
Under the caption, "Famous Cook
Here This Week", the Cambridge Springs Enterprise, semi-weekly publication of Cambridge Springs, Pa., has the following to say of the demonstration of the Hot-Point electric range by Mrs. Elizabeth Barge Martin of this city.

The North-western Electric Service Company is giving some interesting demonstrations in the vacant store room of the Bartlett Hotel this week.

A Hot-Point electric range is used to make up some of the famous recipes of Mrs. Elizabeth Barge Martin, of whom all women have heard.
Mrs. Martin has contributed many departments to magazines and has conducted cooking courses all over the country.

Among her famous recipes is one for angel food which will be used at the demonstration in the Bartlett room on Thursday of this week. The recipe follows:

ANGEL FOOD
Whites of nine fresh eggs.
1 1-4 cups granulated sugar.
1 cup sifted cake flour.
1-2 teaspoon cream of tartar; teaspoonful Vanilla extract.

Beat the whites about half, add the cream of tartar and beat until thoroughly dry. Fold in the sifted sugar and flour lightly. Add the vanilla. Place in ungreased pan and in a cool oven. Bake forty-five minutes.

Mrs. Martin opened the demonstration in Cambridge Springs on Wednesday, April 4th, with a demonstration of oven operating and "looking an entire dinner in the oven. Thursday her program was "deep fat frying and cake baking," on Friday, "broiling, frying, and baking", and on Saturday, an exposition of "meat substitutes".

ent of the Nachusa Orphanage, delivered the sermon at the special service at St. Paul's Lutheran church

"Some Lessons from the Garden of Gethsemane." The lessons cited were all suggestive of the better way, the higher life, and the talk was much appreciated by those present. Be-somewhat reduced but the interest of those present was evident.

Rev. E. C. Lumsden will deliver surprised Tuesday evening, when a group of friends gathered at the and Mrs. Carlsen at the home of the former to do honor to her birthday.

Mrs. Harms had prepared a most demembrance.

STOMACH ACTS FINE!
NO INDIGESTION, GAS
HEARTBURN, ACIDITY

"Pape's Diaphepsin" fixes sick, sour, upset stomachs in five minutes

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure with drastic drugs.
Pape's Diaphepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmles-ness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its quick relief in indigestion, dyspepsia and gas-tris, when caused by acidity, has made it famous the world over.

Keep this wonderful stomach sweetener in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and causes gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diaphepsin comes in contact with the stomach it helps to neutralize the excessive acidity, then all the stomach distress caused by it disappears. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming such stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

GOVERNMENT OVERDONE.

In his last message to the legislature of his state the outgoing governor of Ohio said: "My experience as a state officer convinces me Ohio is over-officered and inspected, and that the people and business of Ohio are being inspected to death." Commenting on this statement of Gov. Willis, the New York Sun says: "Every governor of almost every state, every mayor of almost every city knows at or before the end of his first term that this truth about Ohio is applicable to almost every government in America. Payrolls sag under the overgrown list of superfluous employees. People and property are inspected from a dozen sides for evils which, if they exist, are not remedied as a result of the inspections."

Are we in danger of being governed to death, and if so, what is the remedy? Neither of the persons quoted offers one, but the student of history is reminded of the saying of Thomas Jefferson more than a century ago that the country is governed best that is governed least. That was Jefferson's remedy in and long after his day it was more or less successfully applied. For many decades it was a basic principle of American government. But now the proposition is met by the plea that this government is too big, rich and corrupt, and its conditions in general too complex, to permit effectiveness of a system based on such a principle; therefore we must legislate, regulate and inject ad infinitum. It is true that when times and conditions change methods must be modified, but those now overdoing the business of government would do well to reflect upon Jefferson's excellent advice and example in a simpler period.

FOREIGNERS IN AMERICA

The government announces that the rights of foreigners in this country who conduct themselves properly will be respected. That rule is in accordance with American principles, or the principles that should govern any civilized people. Foreigners who do not conduct themselves properly will not find this climate particularly healthy, however. Those who have come to America from foreign lands are enjoying better conditions here than they had at home. That is why they are here. There is a song about "Don't be like the cur in the story, don't bite the hand that's feeding you."

CLEAN-UP WEEK.

Commissioner Van Bibber is promoting a "Clean-up Week" for next week. That will be the time for cleaning up the yards, alleys, streets and all public and private property.

This is the proper time of the year to clear away the winter's collection of rubbish, leaves, ashes, etc. Dress up the city. If everyone does his part the task is an easy one.

Germany says the entrance of the U. S. into the war will make no difference. The height of optimism.

Back east a judge ruled that a man must obey his wife for the period of one year. Out this way we have to do it for life, and the dear things don't need the help of the law either.

"Darn it," says young America, "why does spring vacation and the time to rake leaves come at the same time?"

Since she has found that Uncle Sam is in earnest and is clearing the decks for action, Germany is not so keen for war with this country.

WAR NOW A CERTAINTY.

The president has asked congress to declare war. He tells congress and the nation why it is imperative and recites the list of Germany's barbarous acts. The provocation, as presented by the president, is sufficient, and the sentiment of congress is said to be for war, so war it probably must be.

We in America do not comprehend the extent to which suffering may go at the dictates of the war gods, but we know enough to know that while this war lasts it will mean misery and horror. However great the cost of victory, the cost of defeat would be triple. This war must be waged with vigor and dispatch.

His Own Fault.

The old miser in the story who dropped a five dollar gold piece in the plate at church, mistaking it for a nickel, could get no great satisfaction out of the deed, as will be recalled, but he was not the man to give up easily.

Accordingly he sought legal advice with a view of instituting a suit at law. But the lawyer whom he consulted was one of those rare and gifted souls who would much rather be witty than rich—or almost anything else for that matter.

"Sir," said he at once, "you have no case. You were guilty of contributory negligence." Exchange.

When the Call is Sounded

They will come from the hill and the valley.

They will come from the mountain and plain; From the deeps and the heights they will rally.

At the sound of the bugle's refrain. They will come in their youth and their beauty.

With valorous daring and skill, And all will be patriot duty, And all will be patriot will.

Not once will the echo, repeating, Ring emptily over the plain, But, swelled with the voices of greeting, Redouble the clarion strain.

From hearths that are shadowed with sorrow, From homes that are happy and gay, They will come at the summons tomorrow To march to the heat of the fray.

The day when the war cry is sounded Not one will show vestige of fear, But numbers in haste will be rounded And all will be courage and cheer.

They will come from the mountain and valley, A noble, invincible band, To the first of the free they will rally—The flag of their own native land!

Easter Music at St. Paul's. Beautiful music will mark the Easter services at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The choir and its director, Mrs. E. M. Goodell, have expended much time and effort to perfect the production, and it is evident that the program will equal those of other years, which have always been pronounced of the best.

The morning anthem is Protheroe's "Christ is Eternal", given by the choir, in the evening the cantata, "Zion" by Pearis will be sung. Robert Anderson will sing Granieri's "Hosanna", and Mr. Titus will play a popular arrangement of the Traumeri upon the violin.

SENATE VOTES WAR ON KAISER

"I fully expected the senator from Wisconsin, before he took his seat to defend the invasion of Belgium, the most barbarous act ever committed. I heard from his speech that was pro-German, pro-Goth, pro vandal and when was anti-president, anti-congress and anti-American.

"While pronouncing an eulogy on the German people, it might have eulogized a very much greater, better and more intelligent people—the American people.

"His speech was exactly what might have been delivered in the German reichstag by Bethmann-Hollweg. If Bethmann-Hollweg had had the audacity. But Bethmann-Hollweg had too much sense, too much knowledge to make that speech."

House Body Favors War Bill.

Washington, April 5.—The house foreign affairs committee in a report on the Martin war bill, which they presented to the house, declared no course was open to the government but to accept Germany's "rage of battle and declare that a state of war exists."

BRITISH TAKE STRONG POINT

French Enter Outskirts of St. Quentin in Drive.

London, April 5.—In an operation designed to straighten their line from Arras to Epehy the British attacked and captured the village of Metz-En-Couture and are engaged in hard fighting against the Germans for the possession of Havincourt wood, an important strategic position, forming a small salient in the British front.

Paris, April 5.—French patrols reached the southwestern outskirts of St. Quentin, the war office announces. The French made further gains east

John Deere Pony Tractor Plow No. 3—3 Bottoms.

Walking Plows, Sulky Wheel Plows, Gang Plows--and Now John Deere Light Tractor Plows

John Deere plows have always been leaders. We have these plows in stock, ready for your inspection. John Deere Plows have worked satisfactorily for your neighbor. They will do equally as good work for you.

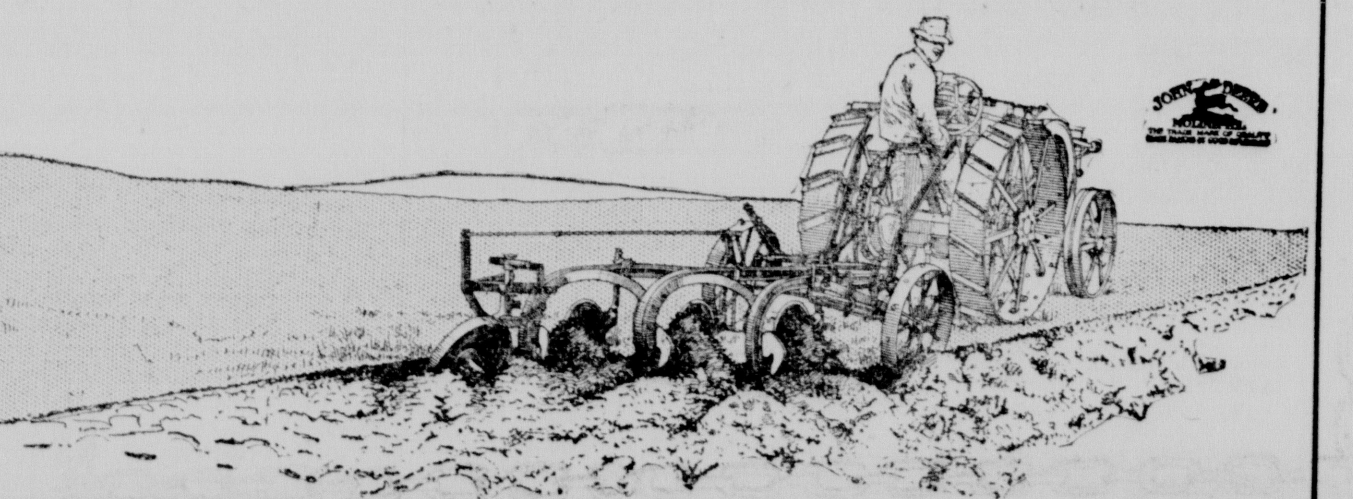

Here are seven reasons why John Deere plows for light tractors are successful

- 1st. They can be operated by the man on the tractor.
- 2nd. They have a high and level power lift. A pull of the rope and the bottoms are raised; another pull, and they are lowered and the tractor does the work.
- 3rd. They can be backed up—stiff hitch makes this possible.
- 4th. Furnished with two, three or four John Deere bottoms—the standard plow bottoms for over seventy-eight years, and there is a John Deere bottom made especially for your soil.

A Friend.

There are two elements that go to the composition of friendship, each so sovereign that I detect no superiority in either, no reason why either should be the first named. One is truth. A friend is a person with whom I can be sincere. The other element of friendship is tenderness. When a man comes dear to me I have touched the goal of fortune.—Emerson.

hated war and the suffering that it brought, but that there were many things worse than death. The pastor's address was true-blue Americanism. It was an appeal from the heart for America and the freedom of humanity.

Rev. Lumsden said that any foreign-born person now in America who did not have enough appreciation of this country to be for America first, last and all the time, should go to the railway station and buy a ticket, and not a return ticket either, for the place from which he came.

"It has taken a lot of grit and grace to stand for the principles of the United States through all its history," said Rev. Lumsden, "and it is going to take a lot of grit and grace to go through the present situation honorably, but it will be done."

Speaking of the difficulty of America going to war with Germany, when so many people of German sympathies live here, the pastor said that all the wars the United States has fought have been hard. He told how the soldiers of the English colonies in Revolutionary days took up arms against their mother country, fighting cousins and uncles and brothers. He spoke of how they faced the same necessity in the war of 1812 and how in the civil war the boys of '61 and '65 fought their own brothers, their own people, with families divided.

"This war," said the speaker, "is for all oppressed humanity on the face of the earth."

Rev. Lumsden said there was nothing left to do but war with Germany. He said this country had stood Germany's methods of "murder, lying, rapine, duplicity, underhanded work and brazen arrogance" as long as possible. He called upon the young men of Dixon to fight for the glorious Stars and Stripes, and to fight with faithfulness and purity of purpose.

Copyright, 1912, by A. Conan Doyle.

That was the kind of man I mean. Think of the woman he loved and how other women must have envied her! That's what I should like to be—envied for my man."

"Give me a chance and see if I will take it," I cried. "Besides, as you say, men ought to make their chances and not wait until they are given. Look at Cive—just a clerk, and he conquered India! By George, I'll do something in the world yet!"

She laughed at my sudden Irish fervor. "Why not?" she said. "You have everything a man could have—youth, health, strength, education, energy. I was sorry you spoke. And now I am glad—so glad—if it wakes those thoughts in you!"

"And if I do?"

Her dear hand rested like warm velvet upon my lips. "Not another word, sir! You should have been at the office for evening duty half an hour ago—only I hadn't the heart to remind you. Some day, perhaps, when you have won your place in the world, we shall talk it over again."

And so it was that I found myself that foggy November evening pursuing the Camberwell tram with my heart glowing within me and with the eager determination that not another day should elapse before I should find some deed which was worthy of my lady. But who—who in all this wide world could ever have imagined the incredible shape which that deed was to take or the strange steps by which I was led to the doing of it?

I always liked McArdle, the crabbed, old, round backed, red headed news editor, and I rather hoped that he liked me. Of course, Beaumont was the real boss, but he lived in the rarefied atmosphere of some Olympian height, from which he could distinguish nothing smaller than an international crisis or a split in the cabinet. Sometimes we saw him passing in lonely majesty to his inner sanctum, with his eyes staring vaguely and his mind hovering over the Balkans or the Persian gulf. He was above and beyond us. But McArdle was his first lieutenant, and it was he that we knew. The old man nodded as I entered the room, and he pushed his spectacles far up on his bald forehead.

"Well, Mr. Malone, from all I hear, you seem to be doing very well," said he in his kindly Scotch accent.

I thanked him.

"The colliery explosion was excellent. So was the Southwark fire. You have the true descriptive touch. What did you want to see me about?"

"To ask a favor."

He looked alarmed, and his eyes shined mine. "Tut, tut! What is it?"

"Do you think, sir, that you could possibly send me on some mission for the paper? I would do my best to put it through and get you some good copy."

"What sort of mission had you in your mind, Mr. Malone?"

"Well, sir, anything that had adventure and danger in it. I really would do my very best. The more difficult it was the better it would suit me."

"You seem very anxious to lose your life."

"To justify my life, sir."

McArdle was plunged in thought for some minutes.

"I wonder whether you could get on friendly—or at least on talking—terms with a modern Munchausen," he said at last. "You seem to have a sort of genius for establishing relations with people—sympathy, I suppose, or animal magnetism, or youthful vitality, or something. I am conscious of it myself."

"You are very good, sir."

"So why should you not try your luck with Professor Challenger of Enmore Park?"

I dare say I looked a little startled. "Challenger?" I cried. "Professor Challenger, the famous zoologist? Wasn't he the man who broke the skull of Blundell of the Telegraph?"

The news editor smiled grimly.

"Do you mind? Didn't you say it was adventures you were after?"

"It is all in the way of business, sir."

I answered.

"One moment, sir," I added. "I am not very clear yet why I am to interview this gentleman? What has he done?"

The face flashed back again.

"Went to South America on a solitary expedition two years ago. Came back last year. Had undoubtedly been to South America, but refused to say exactly where. Began to tell his adventures in a vague way, but somebody started to pick holes, and he just shut up like an oyster. Something wonderful happened, or the man's a champion liar, which is the more probable supposition. Got so touchy that he assaults any one who asks questions and heaves reporters down the stairs. In my opinion he's just a homicidal megalomaniac with a turn for science. That's your man, Mr. Malone. Now, off you run and see what you can make of him. You're big enough to look after yourself. Anyway, you are all safe. Employers' liability act, you know."

A grinning red face turned once more into a pink oval, fringed with gingery stuff; the interview was at an end.

I went to the Savage club. It was just after 11, and the big room was fairly full, though the rush had not yet set in. I noticed a tall, thin, angular man seated in an arm chair by the fire. He turned as I drew my chair up to him. It was the man of all others whom I should have chosen—Tarp Henry of the staff of Nature, a thin, dry, leathery creature, who was full to those who knew him of kindly humanity. I plunged instantly into my subject.

"What do you know of Professor Challenger?"

"Challenger?" He gathered his brows in scientific disapproval. "Challenger was the man who came with some cock and bull story from South America."

"What story?"

"Oh, it was rank nonsense about some queer animals he had discovered. I believe he has retracted since. Anyhow, he has suppressed it all. He gave an interview to a news agency, and there was such a howl that he saw it wouldn't do. It was a discreditable business. There were one or two folk who were inclined to take him seriously, but he soon choked them off."

"How?"

"Well, by his insufferable rudeness and impossible behavior. There was poor old Wadley of the Zoological Institute. Wadley sent a message, 'The president of the Zoological Institute presents his compliments to Professor Challenger and would take it as a personal favor if he would do them the honor to come to their next meeting.' The answer made by Professor Challenger was unprintable."

"You don't say?"

"Well, a bowdlerized version of it would run, 'Professor Challenger presents his compliments to the president of the Zoological Institute and would take it as a personal favor if he would go to the devil.'"

"Good Lord!"

"Yes; I expect that's what old Wadley said. I remember his wall at the meeting, which began, 'In fifty years experience of scientific intercourse—It quite broke the old man up. He hasn't recovered yet.'"

"Anything more about Challenger?"

"Well, I'm a bacteriologist, you know. I live in a 900 diameter microscope. I can hardly claim to take serious notice of anything that I can see with my naked eye. I'm a frontiersman from the extreme edge of the knowable, and I feel quite out of place when I leave my study and come into touch with all you great, rough, hulking creatures. I'm too detached to talk scandal, and yet at scientific conversations I have heard something of Challenger, for he is one of those men whom nobody can ignore. He's as clever as they make 'em, a full charged battery of force and vitality, but a quarrelsome, ill conditioned faddist and unscrupulous at that. He had gone the length of faking some photographs over the South American business."

"You say he is a faddist. What is his particular fad?"

"He has a thousand, but the latest is something about Weissmann and evolution. He had a fearful row about it in Vienna, I believe."

Half an hour later I was seated in the newspaper office, with a huge tome in front of me, which had been opened at the article "Weissmann versus Darwin," with the subheading: "Spirited Protest at Vienna. Lively Proceedings." My scientific education having been somewhat neglected, I was unable to follow the whole argument, but it was evident that the English professor had handled his subject in a very aggressive fashion and had thoroughly annoyed his continental colleagues. "Protests," "Uproar," and "General appeal to the chairman" were three of the first brackets which caught my eye. Most of the matter might have been written in Chinese for any definite meaning that it conveyed to my brain.

"I wish you could translate it into English for me," I said pathetically to my helpmate.

"Well, it is a translation. That is the trouble."

"Then I'd better try my luck with the original."

"It is certainly rather deep for a layman."

"If I could only get a single good, meaty sentence which seemed to convey some sort of definite human idea it would serve my turn. Ah, yes, this one will do. I seem in a vague way almost to understand it. I'll copy it out. This shall be my link with the terrible professor."

"Nothing else I can do?"

"Well, yes; I propose to write to him. If I could frame the letter here and use your address it would give atmosphere."

"We'll have the fellow hound here making a row and breaking the furniture."

"No, no; you'll see the letter—nothing contentious, I assure you."

"Well, that's my chair and desk."

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take Salts for Back-ache or Bladder trouble—Neutralizes acids.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grownups printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. CARREL TO TEACH DOCTORS OF ARMY

Wonders of War Surgery to Be Brought to America.

DR. DAKIN ALSO ASSOCIATED

Rockefeller Institute to Have Hospital Unit of 100 Beds For Wounded—Surgeons Here Anxious to Attend the Approaching Clinics and Prepare For Any Emergency That May Arise.

All the marvels of the military surgical skill of Dr. Alexis Carrel and Dr. H. D. Dakin, who are recognized as the leading practitioners of military surgery in the world today, are about to be placed at the disposal, so far as such technical knowledge and expertness can be imparted to others, of the army and navy surgeons of the United States. Two hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated by the Rockefeller foundation to bring Dr. Carrel and Dr. Dakin to New York to equip a hospital for them and to open their clinics to classes of American army and navy surgeons.

Immediately the construction and equipment of a military hospital unit will be begun on the grounds of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research in New York. Here Dr. Carrel and Dr. Dakin, whose surgical triumphs at their hospital at Compiegne, France, since the beginning of the great war have attracted worldwide attention, personally in a few weeks will begin to teach United States army and navy surgeons methods of military medical and surgical preparedness and technique, especially in the matter of infected wounds, that could only have come out of so wide a field of experience as the European war afforded.

The Rockefeller foundation further announced that preliminary arrangements and the complete organization of the new instructive unit have been completed, so that Dr. Carrel and Dr. Dakin, as soon as they have completed the necessary formalities of obtaining leaves of absence from the French government, will begin the instruction of classes of American surgeons who will care for our wounded in case of war with Germany.

Hospital Ready in Ten Weeks.

The hospital, it is expected, will be ready within ten or twelve weeks. Charles Butler, who has made a thorough study of the war time hospitals of France and England, will have charge of the portable unit, which will have accommodations for 100 wounded men. All the regular work of a hospital will be undertaken at the new unit, but its chief object will be to make it first and last an institution of experiment and instruction.

The hearty co-operation of the army, the navy and of public health officials with the Rockefeller institute and the two surgeons has already been assured. The hospital will consist of several detached one story wooden buildings, which can be completed quickly. As soon as these buildings have been erected Dr. Carrel and Dr. Dakin will open their laboratories on the grounds and begin work.

The great success of Dr. Carrel and Dr. Dakin in their Compiegne hospital since the outbreak of the great war, especially in the advances made by Dr. Carrel in the treatment of deeply wounded legs and arms which formerly were invariably amputated, but now are saved by the new Carrel treatment, is widely known even among laymen.

Deepest of Wounds Cleaned.

Deep wounds meant infection that the surgeon formerly could not get at to cleanse; therefore the flab had to come off. Dr. Carrel, shortly after leaving New York for France at the outbreak of the war, perfected a method of treatment whereby, with the aid of slender tubes, he inserted into the wound a solution of hypochlorite of lime that acted as a thorough disinfectant and yet avoided the caustic effects of the chlorine. The chemical properties of the solution simultaneously kill bacteria and have a solvent effect upon dead tissue, thus minimizing the opportunities for progressive infection.

The matter of making the compound simple enough, but its application and the treatment of the wounds later require special instruction if the best results are to be obtained. In recent months once the medical world had learned through its scientific journals of the wonders being performed daily at Compiegne, physicians and surgeons from all over the world have journeyed to France to study the Carrel method.

In bringing Dr. Carrel to this country the Rockefeller foundation has, in addition to the general idea of patriotic service, three specific objects in view. As listed by the foundation, these objects are:

To make available to patients the improved method of treatment.

To demonstrate and teach to American surgeons who may be enrolled for military service measures for the treatment of infected wounds.

To test the feasibility of a portable military hospital unit.

It is planned to have the American surgeons who are to study the new methods of military surgery assigned to the hospital in successive groups. Each group of student surgeons will spend a minimum period of four weeks studying the method of application and the results obtained.

Dixon People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, head aches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home.

Mrs. J. L. Fine, 1006 Peoria Ave., Dixon, says: "I suffered for years from kidney trouble. My head aches and dizzy spells, and that I had to stay in bed. I had head aches and dizzy spells and speaks before my eyes. My wrists and ankles also swelled. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Prescott & Schindberg, successors to Leake Bros. Co's. Drug store, and they helped me. They have never failed to give satisfactory results, when I have taken them since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Fine had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

NATIONAL BANKS' ASSETS
 TOTAL $16,000,000,000

Exceeds by $5,000,000 the Combined Resources of Ten World Powers, Reports Show.

American national banks have set a new high record for resources, again revealing the United States as incomparably the richest nation in the world. Comptroller Williams has announced that on March 5, the date of the last bank call, the assets of the national banks aggregated more than $16,000,000,000, exceeding by over $5,000,000 the combined resources of the Bank of England, the Bank of France, the Bank of Italy, the Bank of Spain, the Bank of Norway, the Bank of Sweden, the Swiss National bank, the National Bank of Denmark, the Bank of Japan and the Reichsbank of Germany.

"Reports of national banks in the central reserve cities and reserve cities throughout the country as of March 5, just compiled," said the comptroller's statement, "show that on that date the resources of these banks were $210,000,000 larger than ever before in their history, the previous high water mark having been reached Nov. 17, 1916. The increase as compared with Dec. 27, 1916, was $480,000,000.

"The reports have thus far been compiled for only about one-fifth of the country banks or banks outside of the reserve cities. If the assets of the other country banks have increased at the same rate as those thus far compiled the total increase in country bank resources will be approximately $250,000,000 as compared with Dec. 27, 1916. On this basis the increase in the resources of all national banks in central reserve and reserve cities and country banks from Dec. 27 to March 5 will approximate $730,000,000, making the total assets of all national banks March 5 considerably in excess of $16,000,000,000.

"As the total resources of all national banks on April 4, 1913, amounted to only $11,081,000,000 the increase of resources for the past four years has amounted to approximately $5,000,000,000.

"The amount of bonds of foreign governments and of other securities held by our national banks on March 5 was approximately $338,000,000, or but little more than 2 per cent of their total resources. The increase as compared with Dec. 27 was $16,000,000, and as compared with Nov. 17 was $40,000,000."

CLOTHES MAKE THE MAN.

New York Educator, In Wrong Room, "Fired" by Head Waiter.

Dr. John H. Finley, New York state commissioner of education, was to speak at a banquet in Albany, N. Y. It was 9 o'clock when he arrived at the hotel. He inquired of a young woman cashier the route to the banquet hall, went up the wrong stairs and walked into a serving room, where two score waiters were busy.

The head waiter turned on Dr. Finley angrily and in a loud voice demanded: "What do you mean by showing up here two hours late for work? You're canned!"

Dr. Finley replied: "All right. I'll get out."
 Finding his way to the banquet hall, Dr. Finley drew the biggest laugh of the evening when he recited the story of how he had been mistaken for a waiter. In the mail next day Dr. Finley received this letter:

You tried to enter the banquet hall by way of the employees' stairs. My mistake was due to your evening attire. The young lady who inquired your way of beliefs with Carlyle, that "clothes make the man." Therefore she directed you to the waiters' entrance. I am sending you this explanation because I feel you will appreciate the episode as one of those after dinner stories that really occur.

Offers Barracks For Hospitals and Recruiting Stations.

The Salvation Army has offered its 900 barracks in various cities to the United States government for recruiting stations and its 128 industrial homes and 100 hotels for auxiliary hospitals in case of war. The offer was made by Commander Eva Booth, and two officers of the army went to Washington to see Secretaries Daniels and Baker.

Colonel William Peart, chief secretary of the organization, said that the army also would supply its quota for the front and would do its utmost to aid recruiting.

FOOD TO SOAR TO UNKNOWN MARK

Three Dollars Has Lost 69 Cents of Buying Power.

WORLD 40,000,000 MEN SHY

Whereas Formerly They Devoted All Their Attention to Producing Foodstuffs, They Are Now Engaged in Destroying and Consuming—Annual Provender Bill Away Up.

Economists predicted in Washington a new era of high prices for foodstuffs in the United States. Prices will reach the most extreme point in the history of the United States, says a dispatch to the New York World.

The prediction was based on two main considerations. First, the fact that some 40,000,000 men usually in productive employments, a large percentage of them in agricultural pursuits, are now engaged exclusively in destroying and consuming, and, second, that the principal crops of the world are short, added to which is the fact that the United States alone of all countries has all that it needs for itself and a surplus to ship abroad.

The demand for American farm products, it was asserted, will increase, and while speculators will exercise some influence upon the rise in prices this influence will be inconsiderable in comparison to the requirements of the belligerent nations and of neutral Europe for whatever foodstuffs they can obtain in the United States, which will multiply the price of many articles.

Jump From $339.30 to $425.54.

The annual food bill of the average family has grown from $339.30 in 1913 to $425.54 at present, the department of labor announced in a review of food prices.

In ten years, the department's experts estimate, the advance in the cost of food has so far outstripped wage increases that the workman who drew $3 a day in 1907 now finds himself just 69 cents a day worse off.

The heaviest increase in food prices during the last four years is shown in potatoes, the cost of which has risen for each family from $18.06 to $44.60. Other large increases are in eggs, from $33.01 to $43.97; flour, $15.12 to $25.40; butter, $45.72 to $54.78. Of the whole list of foods only sirloin and round steak are cheaper than five years ago.

In the period from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15 food prices took a 4 per cent jump. Onions led with a 77 per cent increase. Potatoes went up 30 per cent. Eggs alone decreased in price.

Ten Then and Seven Now.

It is estimated that if a dollar's worth of food bought in 1907 weighed ten pounds it would weigh today a trifle more than seven pounds.

"Despite the average increase of 19 per cent in wages an hour in the last ten years," says the department's statement, "and despite a cut in hours worked of 4 per cent, the rising cost of food has operated to reduce the pay of the American workman about 16 per cent expressed in terms of food his dollar will buy."

"But war losses got into the equation in 1916 and pushed up food prices faster than wages. There were some crop shortages also, which contributed their share. Besides this, however, there is reason to fear that other elements are conspiring to raise prices.

"Cold storage, rebelling, reshipping and withholding of commodities from market are suspected to contribute to the present abnormal rise in the prices of food. Whether some persons have conspired to encroach the markets the department of labor cannot state. But the reports of the bureau of labor statistics seem to lend some color to such an opinion, viewed in the light of conditions revealed by a comparison of figures through a range of years."
